Building Your Future
With the GI Bill®

PART TWO: A GUIDE TO UNDERSTANDING YOUR BENEFITS

OCTOBER 2020
The Department of Veteran Affairs (VA) offers education benefits to eligible Service members, Veterans and their dependents who wish to further their education and advance their career. Understanding the variety of education benefits available will help you determine the appropriate VA benefit based on your eligibility and goals. This guide is meant to provide details on supplemental programs and offer a way to compare your options. Furthermore, this guide encompasses information on additional grants, scholarships, state benefits and student loans, to give you a wholistic view of resources available at your fingertips. This guide, part two in a three-part series, is meant to assist future GI Bill beneficiaries, like you, in navigating the VA education benefits that can lead to a fulfilling career.

VA Education Benefits

VA Education Service administers five benefits programs to provide benefits and resources to help Service members, Veterans and their dependents or eligible family members achieve their education goals. These benefits include financial support for undergraduate and graduate degrees, non-college degree programs, licensing and certification tests, apprenticeships, on-the-job training and more.

- If you pursue undergraduate and graduate degrees, you may be eligible for:
  - Tuition Assistance Top-Up
  - Tutorial Assistance
- If you want to train for a specific career, trade, or industry, you may be eligible for:
  - Personalized Career Planning and Guidance
  - Vocational/technical training and non-college degree programs
  - On-the-job training and apprenticeships
  - Entrepreneurship training
  - Flight training
  - Test fees
- If you want to work while you study, your education benefits may help pay for:
  - Co-op training
  - Work study
- If you want to take classes from home, your education benefits may help pay for:
  - Correspondence training
  - Independent and distance learning

*You may qualify for more than one education benefit; however, you cannot receive benefits under more than one program at a time and cannot exceed 48 months of entitlement.

Annually, VA processes approximately 4 million education claims and distributes approximately $12B in education benefits to 1 million beneficiaries.
Post-9/11 GI Bill

The Post-9/11 GI Bill (Chapter 33) is the most frequently used VA education benefit. It provides up to 36 months of benefits to help pay for school or job training for Veterans, Service members, survivors and dependents.

Your Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits may include financial support for school tuition, fees, books, supplies, and housing. You may also receive reimbursement for license or certification tests, national exams or assistance for apprenticeships or on-the-job-training. A one-time benefit to help you relocate from certain rural areas to attend school is also available.

Based on length of active service, you are entitled to a percentage of each type of benefit, up to 100% of the maximum benefit.

You may be eligible if you:

» Served at least 90 aggregate days of qualifying active service on or after September 11, 2001.

» Received a Purple Heart on or after September 11, 2001 and were honorably discharged after any amount of service.

» Served for at least 30 continuous days on or after September 11, 2001, and were honorably discharged with a service-connected disability.

» Are a spouse or dependent child using benefits transferred by a qualifying Veteran or Service member.

Your benefits expiration dates depend on when you were discharged from active duty. If your service ended before January 1, 2013, your Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits will expire 15 years after your last separation date from active service. If you do not use all of your benefits within 15 years, any remaining benefits will expire and will no longer be available. If your service ended on or after January 1, 2013, your benefits do not expire thanks to a section of the Harry W. Colmery Veterans Educational Assistance Act, also known as the “Forever GI Bill”.

Some education benefits may be transferred to your spouse and child(ren) before leaving active duty. Learn more about transfer of benefits here and learn more about Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits and apply for education benefits at VA.gov.

The GI Bill enabled my husband and I to go to school at the same time and not have to worry so much about finances… we could pursue our educations more vigorously and with less stress than we would have otherwise.

GI Bill Highlights

GI Bill Mission and Goals

- Expands opportunities for Veterans and eligible family members to pursue their academic goals.
- Enhances the nation’s economic strength with innovative programs that support employment in high demand fields.
- Enriches lives by giving beneficiaries the tools they need to further their education that leads to a fulfilling career.

Signed into law in 2017, the Harry W. Colmery Veterans Educational Assistance Act greatly expands your Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits. The Act:

- Eliminates time limit for using benefits for Veterans discharged from Active Duty on or after January 1, 2013.
- Changes basis for Monthly Housing Allowance to the campus location GI Bill students attend the majority of their classes.
- Awards all Purple Heart Recipients the 100% education benefit level.
- Reduces amount of benefits used for licensing or certification exams.
- And more.
Benefits Rates
(effective August 1, 2020)

The Colmery Act Increases benefits for qualifying Veterans who served less than 12 months. Check VA.gov for the latest benefits rates.

The act also introduces additional funding opportunities through VET TEC and the Rogers STEM Scholarship, and expanded eligibility for the Yellow Ribbon Program.

Veterans Employment Through Technology Education Courses (VET TEC)

VET TEC is a five-year pilot program for eligible Veterans to help them secure meaningful employment in the fast-growing technology sector. The program pairs eligible Veterans with market-leading training providers that offer training and skills development in areas such as information science, computer programming, data processing, media applications and computer software programs. Veterans with at least one day of unexpired GI Bill entitlement may be eligible. This program does not utilize GI Bill entitlement. Participants receive tuition for a full-time high-tech training program and money for housing during training. VET TEC is subject by law to a $15 million annual budget. In the event that the annual budget cap is hit, VA will no longer accept new VET TEC student enrollments until additional funding is secured or the new fiscal year starts on October 1. View a full list of training providers and apply on VA.gov.

Edith Nourse Rogers Science Technology Engineering and Math (Rogers STEM) Scholarship

The Rogers STEM Scholarship provides up to nine months of additional Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits (with a maximum of $30,000) to qualifying Veterans and Fry Scholars seeking an undergraduate STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math) degree or who have earned a STEM degree and are now seeking a teaching certificate. Priority is given to students who are entitled to 100% of Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits and those who require the most credit hours. Review the STEM Designated Degree Program List and apply on VA.gov.

Yellow Ribbon Program

The Yellow Ribbon program provides additional financial support if you are eligible at the 100% benefit level and attend a school where tuition and fees exceed the maximum Post-9/11 GI Bill benefit available by law. Fry Scholars and Purple Heart recipients are also eligible for Yellow Ribbon. Check the Yellow Ribbon Search Tool to see if a school participates.

You have options, and they are good options ... I never would have been able to do any of this without the Post-9/11 GI Bill. Otherwise, I’d be stuck doing a 9-to-5 job, instead of following my dreams. That’s possible because of the GI Bill.

Montgomery GI Bill Active Duty (MGIB-AD)

MGIB-AD, or Chapter 30, provides up to 36 months of financial assistance for educational pursuits, including college, vocational/technical training, correspondence courses, apprenticeships/on-the-job training, flight training, high-tech training, licensing and certification tests, entrepreneurship training courses, and national examinations. Generally, your MGIB-AD benefits are paid directly to you on a monthly basis.

You may be eligible for MGIB-AD benefits while you are on or after you separate from active duty. At a minimum, you must have a high school diploma or GED. To receive benefits after separating, you must have received an honorable discharge. You generally have 10 years from your last date of separation from active duty to use your MGIB-AD benefits.

Learn how you can use your MGIB-AD benefits and apply for education benefits at VA.gov.

Montgomery GI Bill Selected Reserve (MGIB-SR)

MGIB-SR, or Chapter 1606, provides up to 36 months of financial assistance for educational pursuits, including college, vocational/technical training, correspondence courses, apprenticeships/on-the-job training, flight training, high-tech training, licensing and certification tests, and national examinations. If you are a member of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps or Coast Guard Reserve, Army National Guard, or Air National Guard, you may qualify for this program. Generally, your MGIB-SR benefits are paid directly to you on a monthly basis.

You may be eligible for MGIB-SR benefits if you have a 6-year obligation to serve in the Selected Reserve, complete your Initial Active Duty for Training, serve in a drilling unit and remain in good standing, and obtain a high school diploma or equivalency. The Guard and Reserves decide if you are eligible, while VA makes the payments for the program. Generally, your eligibility for MGIB-SR benefits ends on the day you leave the selected reserve.

Learn how you can use your MGIB-SR benefits and apply for education benefits at VA.gov.

Veterans’ Education Assistance Program (VEAP)

VEAP, or Chapter 32, is a $2-for-$1 matching program that provides up to 36 months of education benefits to those who elected to make contributions from their military pay before April 1, 1987. You can use these benefits for degree, certificate, correspondence, apprenticeships/on-the-job training, and vocational flight training programs.

You have 10 years from your release from active duty to use your VEAP benefits. If you have not completely used your entitlement after 10 years, your remaining contributions will be automatically refunded. For those who are eligible, VEAP can provide assistance for education programs similarly covered by other VA benefits. If you are currently on active duty and wish to receive VEAP benefits, you must have at least three months of contributions available.
Survivors’ and Dependents’ Education Assistance (DEA) Program

DEA program, or Chapter 35, provides a monthly payment to help you cover the cost of a degree, certificate, correspondence, apprenticeships/on-the-job training, correspondence courses and other programs. Individuals who first use DEA after August 1, 2018 qualify for a maximum of 36 months of entitlement. You may be eligible if you are the child or spouse of:

» A Veteran who died or is permanently and totally disabled due to a service-connected disability.

» A Veteran who died of any cause while such permanent and total service-connected disability existed.

» A Service member who died during active military service.

» A Service member missing in action or was captured in the line of duty by a hostile force.

» A Service member forcibly detained or interned in the line of duty by a foreign entity.

» A Service member who is hospitalized or receiving outpatient treatment for a service-connected permanent and total disability and is likely to be discharged for that disability.

A child of a Veteran or Service member can receive these benefits between the ages of 18-26. A spouse of a Veteran or Service member can receive these benefits:

» Within 10 years from the date of the Veteran’s death.

» For 20 years if VA rated the Veteran as permanently and totally disabled, with an effective date that is three years after discharge.

» Within 20 years from the date of death if the Service member died on active duty.

Additional Resources

If your VA benefits do not fully cover all of your education expenses, additional resources may be available that can help bridge the gap.

Veteran Readiness and Employment (VR&E)

Veteran Readiness and Employment (VR&E) services can provide help with job training, employment accommodations, resume development, and job seeking skills coaching. If you’re an eligible Service member or Veteran with a service-connected disability, you can learn more on the VR&E Process page.

Personalized Career Planning and Guidance (PCPG)

VA’s Personalized Career Planning and Guidance (PCPG)/Chapter 36 benefit offers enhanced career counseling, assessment, education planning, and guidance resources to achieve personal, career and education goals. PCPG is available to transitioning Service members 6 months prior to separation, Veterans who have transitioned from active service in the last year, and any beneficiary eligible for a VA educational benefit. Learn more and apply for education and career counseling.

Grants & Scholarships

Scholarships offer additional funding to support your education based on academic achievement or other qualifications. Scholarships are usually school-specific, but some are offered nationally, and application processes will vary. You can research various grants and scholarships at your prospective school’s website or check out types of scholarships here.

State Benefits

Some states offer education benefits and/or scholarships for Veterans who are residents or planning to attend a state school. Contact your State’s Veterans Affairs Office for more information.

Student Loans

Student loans can help cover the additional costs of pursuing an education. Federal and private loans are borrowed funds that you must repay with interest. Federal loans typically offer lower interest rates and more flexible repayment terms than private loans. You can learn more about your options using the Federal Student Loans Programs guide, visiting studentaid.gov and Department of Education’s Financial Aid Shopping Sheet.
