

Ernie Durbin

Ernie Durbin is Chief Valuation Officer at Clarocity. Ernie has been instrumental to the invention of technology and methodologies that power Clarocity's proprietary valuation products. In private practice, Ernie specializes in identifying and solving complex residential valuation problems in the Greater Cincinnati Area. Complex valuation services include specialized appraisals such as: relocation, review, REO, and forensic assignments. Ernie Durbin has been on the Veterans Administration's appraisal panel since 1983, completing thousands of assignments for veterans over the last 3 decades. Ernie also holds the SRA and AI-RRS designations from the Appraisal Institute. With the Institute he has served on several special projects as well as a residential experience screener. At the national level, Ernie was a former member of the Appraisal Practices Board of The Appraisal Foundation. He also serves on the Industry Advisory Council (IAC) of the Appraisal Foundation. Ernie is on the Executive Council of the Collateral Risk Network (CRN), a network of "thought leaders" within the valuation profession. Members of the CRN elected Durbin to receive the 2018 Valuation Visionary award. The Valuation Visionary award is in recognition of a collateral valuation professional who has demonstrated outstanding leadership, innovation, and professionalism.
